Finding Forever Homes

The chart to the right shows our adoption numbers for 2018. All of us at H.A.L.O. would like to take a moment and thank you all for your continued support. We would also like to thank our fosters and volunteers for all their hard work. Without you all we would not be able to do what we do.

Interested in adding a new family member? A listing of our available pets can be found on our website. On the home page you will see an ADOPT icon, click on that and from there you will be able to view our listing on petfinder.com and adopt-a-pet.com. We also have our adoption application available for download.

All of our animals come spayed/neutered, up to date on shots and micro-chipped.

Meet The Newest Member of our Angel Ears Team!

Pippa

Pippa is a Cavalier King Charles Spaniel and became a therapy dog in May of 2018. She joined the R.E.A.D program in December, 2018. She and her human mama visit several assisted living homes in the Brentwood/Antioch area along with her library visits. She loves to listen to the children read.

ABOUT ANGEL EARS:

Angel Ears began as a means of promoting humane education, adoption of rescue dogs and for the provision of supportive intervention by Registered Therapy Dogs to the community of children, disabled and the elderly. In 2006, several H.A.L.O. volunteers and their canine pals, all rescue dogs with stories of their own, committed to becoming registered therapy teams and R.E.A.D. trained.

Since that time, Angel Ears Reading Education Assistance Dog (R.E.A.D) teams have volunteered in eight East County libraries to work with children who can benefit in their quest to become better readers by having a four-pawed, furry, non-judgmental reading buddy. Angel Ears teams have provided their own warm 'n fuzzy brand of empathy and nurturing acceptance to children, as well as to the elderly and disabled.

Homeless Animals Lifeline Organization (H.A.L.O.) is happy to announce our 13th Annual Golf Tournament & Dinner/Raffle/Silent Auction. This is our largest fundraiser of the year and we could not do it without support from the public and local businesses.

Money raised from this event helps H.A.L.O. to continue to care for these animals and the expense for their care as well as help fund some of our other programs such as our Angel Ears Dog Therapy Program, Little Troopers Fund and Feral Cat Program. Angel Ears teams work with children at local libraries to help raise reading scores as well as visiting nursing homes to help raise the spirits of patients in these settings. Our Little Troopers Fund is set aside for special needs animals requiring treatment or surgery necessary for that animal to lead a full happy, healthy life. We also work to assist with the feral cat issues in Contra Costa County.

Not a golfer, no problem. The Dinner/Raffle/Silent Auction portion of this event is open to all. Dinner tickets can be purchased separately.

There are several ways you can help support this event:

- Register to Play in our Tournament
- Join us for the after tournament dinner
- Donate a raffle prize
- Become a sponsor
- Share our event on facebook a

SPOTLIGHT PETS

Lexy

Female
Terrier/Chihuahua
Born 3/28/08

Hi! I'm Lexy born 3/28/08 and I weigh 15lbs. I am looking for a forever home. I am a female Terrier/Chihuahua mix, but I don't know where the Chihuahua part is. I'm very affectionate when I get to know you and I want to be your companion. I love spending time together going for walks and enjoy going for car rides, playing fetch with my toys and snuggling up with you. I'll stick right by your side through thick and thin. I live with an indoor cat and numerous dogs at my foster home and I get along with everyone, but I want to be the only dog and be just with you. I truly fall in love with my owner and will be totally devoted to her/him and follow you wherever you go. I'm 11 years old, but I don't feel that I'm that old; I am still very energetic and very loving. I am spayed, potty trained and do well in a crate; but I would love to sleep with you though and I won't wake you; I will just cuddle up with you as long as you allow me to. I really enjoy going for walks and do very well on a leash. I am partial to women but tolerate men and I'm too old for a bunch of children. I am ready to go to my forever home with a loving family, please call to make arrangements to see me, I'm waiting.

Max

Male
Chihuahua/Mix
Born 5/4/2010

Max is a loving male Chihuahua/mix, born 5/4/10 and weighs 17.99lbs. We adopted Max out to a lovely lady in 2010 and he had a wonderful life with her but then she became very ill and couldn't take him with her. Max loves to play tug-a-war with his toy and he always wants to win. Max loves sleeping with you and will cuddle under the covers when he gets cold. He is house trained on potty pads but prefers to go outside to do his business and knows how to use a doggy door. He gets along very well with the other dogs and the indoor cat. Max just wants to be around you and love on you; he will chew on your hand a little to get your attention, but never hurts you. You tell him to go get his toy and he will. He enjoys chewing on his cow hoove when he is just lying around. Max would enjoy someone that will have time for him; take him for car rides and take him on his daily walks. He enjoys sunbathing for a little bit outside but doesn't want to be left outdoors all the time; Max wants to be an indoor dog so he can feel wanted and loved. He would love to be with a family without SMALL CHILDREN full time, they make him very nervous. He really is a lover and would love to go home with you. He promise to be devoted to you and love you more than you can love him back.

6 Good Reasons To Adopt a Senior or Older Dog

source: dogtime.com

Senior dogs need homes just as badly as younger dogs, and make loving and loyal companions. Help spread the word during Adopt a Senior Pet Month, which is observed throughout the month of November. Here are a few reasons you should adopt a senior dog.

1. You Can Be A Hero

By adopting an older dog, you are fighting for the value and beauty of life at all ages and stages. Shelters are frequently overcrowded and older dogs are often among the first to be euthanized. In choosing an older animal, you are truly saving a life. It's heroic to see beauty and love where others often don't even bother looking and give an older dog a second chance to live out the rest of their life with dignity and love.

2. Older Dogs Are Often Already Trained

Most older dogs have already mastered training basics. They know outdoors is for potty, and shoes are for walking, not chewing. A senior dog has learned many of life's lessons already, and they are quick to understand what you're asking from them. Older dogs, especially those who have once experienced love and affection, will try to please you by being obedient and showing good house manners.

3. Seniors Have Fewer Surprises

Older dogs are a known commodity, easy to assess for size and temperament. You won't be wondering just exactly how big they'll grow, and you'll know who the dog is—aloof, friendly, shy, or whatever personality type—so it's easier to decide how the senior you choose will fit into your family and your lifestyle.

4. Seniors Are Less Demanding

Don't adopt a dog unless you're prepared to give them love and attention, spend money, and make some personal sacrifices. A senior dog is often less demanding than a highly-energetic, untrained puppy. While many older dogs still enjoy a brisk daily walk, they're also content to nap and cuddle, and they can fit into many households with ease. A senior dog won't run you ragged. Most grownup dogs don't require the constant monitoring and ongoing training that puppies need, so they're a good choice for older people or busy families with young children.

5. Old Pups Give Instant Companionship

Most senior dogs have already been socialized and learned what it takes to get along with humans and, often, with other pets. You can skip a lot of the training and socialization that puppies require and just get to the cuddling. Older dogs know the routine—when you open the car door they jump right in. They know what the word “walk” means or “treat” so you can have more meaningful interactions with your older dog without years of training. The reward for spending time with your new senior companion is the quick bond you create that builds a special future together.

6. Old Dogs Do Learn New Tricks

Older dogs are eager to learn new tricks. That may go against what you've heard in the past, but it's true. Dogs can be trained at any age. A senior dog, given a new chance for a loving home, will reward your care with unwavering devotion and do their best to please you, which makes teaching new tricks pretty easy. Not to mention, older dogs often make excellent therapy dogs.

Oreo

Hello, I adopted a kitten from your rescue group. She was three months old. Her birthday is April 26th and named Oreo. It has now been one year since we took her home and I just wanted to let you know that she is doing great! She is chubby and very healthy. She is super funny too. We adopted another cat so she could have a friend to play with. He is four and him and Oreo love each other. Oreo loves playing with my kids also and both of my dogs! Thank you so much for what you all do and for taking such good care of animals in need! Below are some picture of Oreo.

-Krystal Wilkinson

Jackson

Jackson (Jax for short) is much loved in a household with both canine and feline brothers and sisters, quite spoiled in fact, and we are so happy he came into our lives

Chole

I've been meaning to send you some pictures of Chloe and here they are. You cannot imagine how much I love her, we are so close and I'm so blessed every day that I have her in my life. God gave me the most perfect & loving dog and I thank Him every day. I will keep in touch and send you some pictures periodically. Grateful & Blessed,
Marla Ortega & Chloe

Beverly

Update on Beverly (scruffy one) Rufus did not pee in the house but we had issues with him going poo in the house. Since Bev is completely house broken, Rufus has started going outside now because of her. Beverly is so perfect. Eight of my nieces an nephews were over yesterday to swim. Beverly did not hide and she interacted with everyone. She is feeling secured. She couldn't be more loved. Thank you.

Blondie

She really enjoys boating and playing in the water on the Delta. She has made herself at home and has done everything right. Going to work with her dad tomorrow. The Bramble family.

Little Troopers

The Little Troopers Fund is a special program dedicated to raising money for treatable dogs and cats that are in urgent need of medical care. Through the Little Troopers Fund, H.A.L.O. foster animals with special needs obtain the care they would not otherwise receive.

As an animal rescue organization, H.A.L.O. takes in a variety of animals that make great companions for their human counterparts. While many of these animals are healthy, some dogs and cats that come into the program are in physical duress or have existing health problems. Little Trooper Fund enables H.A.L.O. to provide these animals with a second chance.

Here are two of our current Little Troopers:

Meet Blondie - (aka miss dirty face)

She came to us having seizures, at least two a day. They last a couple of minutes, then five minutes later she is up and running the room! Super sweet, she loves to cuddle. We are working with the vet and running tests to try and find out more. We are hoping this is something she can outgrow, but that is not a guarantee. She has had multiple rounds of antibiotics, her eyes have cleared up a bit but not sure if they will get any better than this. We are not ready to give up on this little girl. More tests are needed. We are asking for donations to help cover costs of her past and future tests.

Meet our other little Trooper Willow

Willow was found tiny and alone in the wheel well of a truck. Luckily, a kind woman saved her, and called HALO. We took her in, weighing just 13 ounces. It was very apparent that she had a serious problem with her right eye.

A visit to the vet the next day resulted in the diagnosis of terrible infection, and the likelihood that the eye was gone, due to the amount of pus and swelling. A regime of twice a day antibiotics, and three times a day eye/wound care was started. Another visit to the vet did confirm that her eye was gone, and she would need surgery to remove what was left in the socket. Willow had several infections in the following weeks.

Once she reached 3 lbs, she was able to have her spay and eye surgeries.

She is now recovering, and doing great! She has a potential adopter, and can go to her new home, once she has her stitches out and is cleared by her vet.

Her treatments and surgery has added a large financial load to HALO.

We are asking for donations to help offset.

Willow is a sweet, loving girl who purrs in her sleep! She was never going to be denied the care she needed, and now has a wonderful life ahead.

A donation in any amount would be very much appreciated.

Vaccine Clinics

Furry Friends Food Relief Program (F.F.F.R.) started their outreach program in hopes to help stop the overpopulation of animals in the shelters. They help curb this issue by helping owners at the beginning, when they may feel that they need to surrender their furry friend for some of the common financial or behavioral issues. These unfortunate circumstances may include; unable to afford pet food, medical care, spaying and neutering and various other financial reasons. What to bring:

- Pet vaccine records (if you have it)
- Pet spay/neuter certificate (if you have it)

Their food pantry, thrift store and spay/neuter assist, is open Mon, Tues, Thurs, Friday, 1-5pm. At 516 W. 2nd St, Antioch. Vaccine clinics are every 4 weeks. Please check our calendar.

How You Can Help

Fosters Needed!

Foster parents are the backbone of any rescue organization. They supply a valuable service by offering homeless pets a temporary home while H.A.L.O. seeks to match them with the right adopter. The more foster caregivers we have, the more lives we can save.

A foster parent is a person or family that offers shelter, care, and love to an animal in need. The foster parent is matched with a foster animal that is suited to their home and lifestyle. Because many foster pets that come into the program have been traumatized, foster parents' essential responsibility is socializing their foster pets with their family in order to build trust. Foster parents who wish to take on additional responsibility may also care for special needs animals.

H.A.L.O.'s adoption specialists will help to determine the best fit for you. H.A.L.O. provides all food, supplies, and medical care.

If you are interested in becoming a foster or would like more information please contact us at contacthalo@yahoo.com

H.A.L.O. Happenings

Last year we were approached by Shaman Motion Pictures (www.shamanmp.com) to participate in a documentary they are working on, Animal Wellness: A Working Title. In July their team came out and did filming at one of our Angel Ears Read Sessions at the Brentwood Library, as well as joined us at Pet Food Express for filming at adoptions. They are a great group of people and we thank them for including us in this and are looking forward to seeing the finished product at the end of the year. Thank you to Pet Food Express and the Brentwood Library for letting them film there.
